

LIVES OF PAIN

RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA have long enough run riot in the human system.

"They have tormented the human family and need the medical faculty from misuse of surgery they have corrupted the blood, demoralized the joints, creased the nerves, paralyzed the muscles and racked the limbs with wearying pain."

"ATROPHOS" is the enemy of Rheumatism and Neuralgia. It repairs their damage, renews the blood, cures the nerves, soothes the muscles, gives rest and peace to the troubled joints, and restores the patient to health.

"ATROPHOS" is a new remedy, but it has been abundantly tried. From far and near come testimonials from well-known persons who had long suffered. It has turned their disease out. It has cured them. That is all—and that is enough.

"ATROPHOS" can do for you what it has done for these sufferers. It can drive out your Rheumatism and Neuralgia, and will do so if you give it a fair trial.

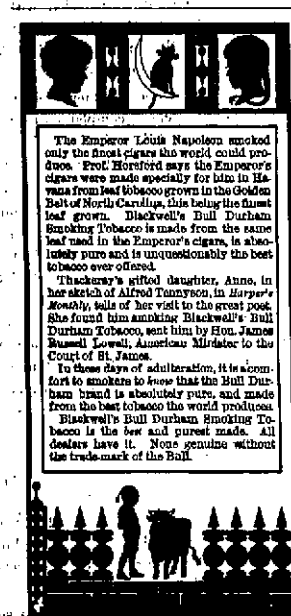

"ATROPHOS" has by this time had such a good trial all over the country that its true work is known, and its true character proved.

"ATROPHOS" means "Pain-Beater"; "Victor"; "Conqueror." It carries the prize as victor over the attacks of these terrible maladies, and the conqueror of the terrible agonies their victims have endured. Not a more temporary relief, but a permanent, enduring, and triumphant cure.

If you cannot get ATROPHOS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he has it, it does not get around to try something else, but order at once from us as directed.

ATROPHOS CO., 112 WALL ST., NEW YORK.

THE EMPEROR LOUIS NAPOLEON smoked only the finest cigars the world could produce. From his estate the Emperor's cigars were made specially for him in Havana from the best tobacco grown in the Golden Belt of North Carolina, this being the finest leaf grown. Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco, sent him by Hon. James Russell Lowell, American Minister to the Court of St. James, is absolutely pure and is unquestionably the best tobacco ever offered.

Blackwell's gifted daughter, Anne, in her sketch of Alfred Dumas, in Harper's Weekly, tells of her visit to the great poet. She found him smoking Blackwell's Bull Durham Tobacco, sent him by Hon. James Russell Lowell, American Minister to the Court of St. James.

To these days of adulteration, it is almost a miracle to find that the Bull Durham brand is absolutely pure, and made from the best tobacco the world produces.

Blackwell's Bull Durham Smoking Tobacco is the best and purest made. All dealers have it. None genuine without the trademark of the Bull.

LAST YEAR 1,250 persons were killed on the railroads in England.

THERE are over 400 women practicing medicine in the United States.

The Indiana state fair begins September 29 and continues until October 4.

We haven't yet heard of Wayne Mac Yeagh being sued by President Arthur for libel.

It is estimated that damage to the extent of $100,000 has been done by the caving in of the banks of the Mississippi at Memphis.

JAMES R. Keene is settling with his creditors by giving his notes payable in twelve and eighteen months. Keene, it will be remembered, was once a newspaper man which accounts for his honesty.

INTERESTING developments are promised by the Wards in return for the unlimited threats made against them, and for the very rude speeches of the Grants. There may yet be a change in the program.

AFTER all the west is coming to the front. A man has been convicted in Nebraska of prize fighting and has been sent to the penitentiary for a year. Highly "cultured Boston" might make a note of this.

TAMMANY HALL was the scene of an enthusiastic meeting of the democracy Friday night. Several of the great orators of the party were present, and at the mention of Mr. Tilden's name the entire audience arose and enthusiastically applauded.

ARTHUR men now claim a certainty of 475 votes for their man in the Chicago convention with a probability of eighty-one, which are doubtful. If that famous New York brigade of one hundred swoops in at the proper time the agony may be early ended.

Now that the Toledo Blade has been kind enough to suggest Judge Thomas M. Cooley, of Michigan, as the man whom the republicans should nominate for the presidency the next thing in order is to call a business men's meeting and to give him a boom.

A PROVERB is on foot to establish a crematory at Irvington, near Indianapolis. The believers are requested to take $2,000 worth of stock. There seems to be a growing sentiment in favor of gathering up the remains of friend in a two-ounce vial. It is a great saving of space at least.

It is to be regretted that Gonzalez, Mexico's accomplished president, should want to resign. A man with his capacity for saving money is a good example for the youthful greasers. It is likely that Mr. G. has heard of Wall Street and is thinking of establishing a fashionable bucket shop.

JUDGE LOWRY, of Indiana, crossed swords with John S. Wise, of Virginia, the other day in the house, and when the entertainment ended Mr. Wise was seriously demoralized. The parting shot of Judge Lowry was, "I have no great regard for the man who practices stonemasonry in his kitchen and plays huckster in congress." That settled Wise, and subsequent proceedings interested him no more.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

At the Tammany hall meeting Friday evening "Mr. Blackburn was the first speaker. He took for his text the surrender of the seas to England, and the conspiracy entered into in 1876 and 1877 by the leaders of the republican party to nullify the suffrages of the people. He denied that the destruction of our commerce is due to the civil war alone, and said that since the war the decline of commerce had gone on steadily. The main cause for this decline he found further and deeper than the navigation laws, and traced it to the class legislation of the tariff, the Chinese wall placed about the country by the advocates of protection. It was this, he said, that compelled this nation to pay $140,000,000 annually as tribute to foreign bottoms. As a nation must sell as well as buy, he demanded, as the necessary condition of progress, that the nation should be as free to do the one as the other—that our ships shall be free to bring us the products of foreign climes.

JAYHAWKER, the unscrupulous correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer, who is a notorious provocateur, managed to slip a letter into that paper without its passing under the eye of the editor, and that paper now is compelled, or at least feels it necessary, to state that the assertions contained in that article are not warranted by the facts. Jayhawker is not reliable and many of his letters should have been carefully revised before being published.

"Ben Harrison could get more votes for president among the railway mail clerks than any other republican," said a Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road mail man; "while Gresham wouldn't arouse as much enthusiasm as would a constabulary election. You see the boys attribute the decision in the French investigation to Gresham's partiality for the latter, while it is pretty well known that, with Harrison in authority, French's stay with the mail service would be too short to be measured. C. Jay is not great, but there is enough of him to make an issue, and you will find that every man who is against French is a Harrison man, and that French and his friends (including newspapers) are working the Gresham boom."

"Oh, I do feel so nice!" said a young girl of nineteen years. "I don't feel as if I had a head or stomach, or anything." And yet headaches, backaches, stomach aches and many other aches, swellings, sores, etc., troubled her before she took Dr. Guy's Yellow Dock and Sassa-parilla. This remedy restored her to perfect health, as is indicated by her clear complexion, smooth skin and bright eyes. It will relieve all ailments peculiar to female life.

The wife of J. A. Crum, near Crooked River, Fla., was found at her home horribly mutilated. She had been criminally assaulted, and then beaten, stabbed and choked to death. Her husband was absent. No clue.

Would You Believe It.

Nature's great remedy, Kidney Wort, has cured many obstinate cases of piles. This most distressing malady generally arises from constipation and a bad condition of the bowels. Kidney Wort acts at the same time as a cathartic and a healing tonic, removes the cause, cures the disease and promotes a healthy state of the affected organs. James F. Moyer, carriage man of Myerstown, Pa., testifies to the great healing powers of Kidney Wort, having been cured by it of a very bad case of piles which for years had refused to yield to any other remedy.

The question of wages between iron masters and employees will be submitted to arbitration under the Pennsylvania law.

Cream and Cold Weather.

What a luxury is a bath in summer. Surely, but a greater luxury is a clear head in winter, just when almost everybody is sneezing and snuffling with a cold in the head. But when you are attacked use Ely's Cream Balm. It cures colds in the head, and what is better, it cures the worse cases of chronic catarrh and hay fever. Not a liquid, not a stuff Pleasant to use. Quick relief. Radical cure.

Only two bids were received yesterday for the Cincinnati News-Journal, and the property will probably be sold at auction.

Eight Years' Scrofula Cured.

The Penn Bank, of Pittsburg, opened its doors this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Quite a crowd was present, but as many were depositing as checking.

Incredulity exists, but nobody has been heard to deny the wholesomeness and purifying effects of Glenn's Sulphur Soap.

Physicians attest: "Colden's Liquid Beef Tonic is particularly useful in Diphtheria, Fever and every depressing disease."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Leadway.

A CARD.

BUCKEYE BLOOD.

Portrait of Chas. W. Butler, Now on Trial for His Life at Columbia City.

The Story of the Desperado as Told by His Father on the Witness Stand.

Late Incidents of the Trial and Strong Probabilities That Butler Will Hang.

In advance of all other Fort Wayne dailies, THE SENTINEL to-day presents a portrait of CHARLES W. BUTLER, on trial for his life for the murder of his wife, Abbie Butler, at Pierceton some months ago. The daring escape of this desperado from the Columbia City jail, and his subsequent attempt to break jail here are familiar to our readers. The story of the wife slayer's life is best told by his old father, Dr. Geo. W. Butler, who testified last week, as follows:

My son Charles was born in Alton, Franklin county, Ohio, twenty-six years ago last September; he was about thirteen years old when I moved to Columbus; went to school every winter, and in the summer when we had school; thought he was a very bright, intelligent boy and got along very well with his studies; moved to Columbus to educate him; on June 3, 1876, he received an injury; saw him at the calaboose; he was in a cell and covered with blood; the wound was on the right side of the head; scalp was cut for about four inches; there were two other smaller wounds on his head; there was some of the brain substance forcing its way out; the bone was broken in and pressed down; the piece that was broken in was about one by one and a half inches; it was pressed down about one-eighth of an inch; I took a hook, slipped it into the break and lifted it up; cleaned the wound and put in silver sutures; he was stupid and comatose; then I took him home, where he was confined to his bed for three weeks; before that he was a little mischievous and wild, but was very kind hearted and never attacked me or his mother; he bled at the ears for two or three weeks; he was fond of reading, about like ordinary boys; was the most saving boy I ever knew; saved up his money for eight years or more; put it in an old stocking leg; had quite a lot; it was silver; refused to loan any to his mother; must have had $25 or more; could trust him to business matters; sent him to buy calves when he was eleven years old; bought cattle and hogs for me about three years; trusted him once with $250, with which he bought calves and brought me the balance back; was twelve years old then; has had his head cut open several times since; there is another depression in his skull, where it was knocked in; ever since his skull was cracked, in 1876, he has complained of pain in his head; since that time he has squandered everything he could get his hands on; went to digging holes in the ground, and would liea them; would dig a round hole for his head and then pour water in it. I have seen him lie in holes that way but he hadn't all his clothes on; only had water in the hole for his head; "would say, 'Go away, my head is hurt. Do you think I want my head to turn up?' He did that off and on for three years; would give away all his clothes; have got him six overcoats in one winter; he either pawned them or gave them away; I redeemed one overcoat twelve times in one winter, paid $5 each time; he cut his throat about two years after the injury, I didn't see it done; I saw him two or three hours after; I said, 'my son what did you do that for?' he answered, that he didn't want to live any more for nobody cared for him;" he said, "he did it with a razor;" the wind pipe was cut through; afterwards, a short time, he tried to hang himself; I said, "my boy why did you try to hang yourself?" and he said: "nobody cares for me." Once saw his wife cut him down from a raft where he was hanging by a rope. He was partially unconscious; remained so five or ten minutes; that was about a year before my wife died, a year ago last January; Charles has told time after time that the police force was down on him, and we were down on him, and he was going to kill himself; about five years ago my wife was at Charles's, the next morning Charles came in and said: "Pa, do you know you are living with an old b—?" I said, "Why, my dear boy, what do you mean?" and he said: "Why, I saw ma and Mr. Ryerson out last night," and he justified that it was so; after that he would come and tell me every time he saw her talk with any man; he claimed she was not virtuous; when ladies would come to my office he would accuse them of not being virtuous, and they were as nice women as ever walked the earth; when he lived out at the fair ground, he said: "Pa, it's awful; you just ought to see how many men come to see Abbie when I am out, they keep coming all night;" sometimes he would get up at night and turn hand-springs, etc.; he used to sleep with a knife or a revolver under his pillow, and said, he was going to kill the d—n burglars; he said there were horse thieves around and robbers, but I never could see any; if he would see his wife come out of my office, or any place else where I was, he would accuse us of being too intimate; I hope to be paralyzed in this chair if she was not as virtuous a woman as ever lived; about three years ago I sent Charles and Mr. Clover to Florida; the same week he got there he wrote to me that he was out of money and wanted some more; he had a large sea shell and some bags of glistening sand in his trunk; he said the sand was diamonds; had sold his overcoat and given the rest of his clothes away; about seven years ago gave him $1,000; said he would be a man if I would; did not know that he was insane then; thought it was only drink; about a month afterward he prevailed upon me to give him $150; I went away and when I came home he and my hired man were both in the calaboose, without a cent of money, and upon inquiring I found that this $1,000 was gone too; I believe now that he really had fits; he had them worse for two years just after he was injured; he has knocked me down twice, and I have had to run from him I couldn't begin to describe the number of times; I have had to jump out of the window, hide in the water closet, etc., to save my life; he broke the window in my office door and the office window; one morning when I got up he had torn up two of my shirts, then took after me."

The trial of Butler is now rapidly drawing to a close. Last Friday and Saturday the time was occupied telling tales of the prisoner's eccentricities. One witness presented, as an evidence of insanity, that Charles once twisted the family cow's tail until the poor dumb brute jumped into the manger. One of Dr. Butler's sons-in-law, in giving his testimony concerning Charles's cracked skull, said that he thought there was a teaspoon full of brains came out of the fracture. But on cross-examination he concluded that it might not have been more than a thimble full, and he said the doctors never put the brains back into his head. There were quite a number of expert witnesses at Columbia City and this line of testimony was continued when the court convened at 10 o'clock this morning. The prevailing opinion seems to be that the insanity business has been worked to excess by the defense and there now appears to be no doubt that Butler will hang. The case will conclude the last of this week.

Freight Shipments Still Decreasing.

During the week ending Saturday, May 24, the shipments of flour, grain and provisions from Chicago to the east were 52,675 tons, against 46,981 tons during the previous week, an increase of 5,744 tons, and an increase of 32,018 tons as compared with the corresponding week of 1883. The shipments of flour decreased 903 tons, those of grain increased 4,961 tons, and those of provisions 1,756 tons.

The percentages were as follows: Baltimore and Ohio, 9.6; Chicago and Atlantic, 8.7; Chicago and Grand Trunk, 25.3; Pan Handle, 5.5; Lake Shore, 13.9; Michigan Central, 14.4; New York, Chicago and St. Louis, 10.2; Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 12.4.

The percentages for the corresponding week last year were: Baltimore and Ohio, 4.2; Chicago and Grand Trunk, 25.1; Pan Handle, 15.6; Lake Shore, 15.9; Michigan Central, 15.3; New York, Chicago and St. Louis, 6.6; Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 17.1. The shipments of the week increased largely, because of the general expectation of an advance in the rates. This advance has not yet been announced, but it is expected daily. This gives a certain interest to the situation and helps the business of the roads.

THE SENTINEL staff have received an invitation to attend the eleventh grand reunion of Company D. of the Eighty-eighth Indiana volunteer infantry, to be held at Maysville, Ind., June 12. The conveying officers of the gallant command are Capt. Scott Swann, first lieutenant; Joseph D. Stophel, adjutant; W. H. Dougall, lieutenant; Adam Bowers, second lieutenant; M. M. Thompson, sergeant; Maj. Charles W. McKee, Colonel C. E. Briant and wagon master, M. S. Brownand.

Katt & Hartnett, the well known news dealers and wall paper men, to-day dissolved partnership. Murray Hartnett retired from the business. A. C. Katt, backed by P. A. Randall and others, has purchased Mr. Hartnett's interest and given a bond of $20,000 to secure him from any further liability. The stock and fixtures of the firm are valued at about $21,000. Mr. Hartnett has several positions offered him, but may decide to go into business for himself again.

The employees of the Wabash road are considerably disturbed over a rumor that Superintendent Stevens had said that he proposed to make it warm for the employees who signed the protest against the establishing of hospitals, which was sent to Manager Talmage. Mr. Stevens is not a man who makes as foolish remarks as that, and doubtless it is only a round house rumor.

All families who have soldiers resting in any of the cemeteries, whose graves have not been marked and decorated in the past, will please report names and location of the same to Comrade James E. Graham, chairman of the memorial executive committee, who will see that they are honored.

John Hamell and Marion Coons escaped from the Albion jail last week. Hamell is the horse thief arrested by Tom Doyle when he was a deputy sheriff.

Population or rapid heating of the heart followed by periods of complete cessation, is caused chiefly by nervousness and bad blood. If the disease is neglected it is liable to result seriously, especially at a time of sudden excitement. Purify the blood, strengthen the muscular and nervous system, governing the heart, by using Dr. Cassatt's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, and you will soon be rid of every trace of the affection.

Many of the bitters and quack medicines of the day are also advertised for consumption on the plan that the only thing that the stuff wont cure is the avaricious, ignoble grief of the proprietor. Don't be deceived. The best remedy for strengthening the lungs, soothing all irritation, and stopping the cough, is Dr. Witzer's Balsam of wild cherry.
It has cured many cases where physicians had given up hope.

In the entire history of rheumatic and neuragic remedies there is no record like that made by Atherophors. The testimonials are from the very best people. They are direct and unqualified as to the cures they work. The best cases have all been difficult ones, many of them cases given up by doctors, or where despair had set in after remedies were supposed to be exhausted. And last, but by no means least, the best and strongest of the testimonials are from persons who never before testified to the merits of any preparation.

Letter From Assemblyman Hoag,
State of New York, Assembly Chamber, Albany, April, 13.

During my temporary residence here
the past winter, I contracted a severe cold, which for a time confined me to my room and rendered me unfit to attend to my duties. I not only suffered all the inconveniences which usually attend a heavy cold, but was afflicted with a tightness in the chest, accompanied with a severe pain, which made breathing difficult and rest impossible. I tried the usual remedies—cough drops, cough candies, etc., but received no substantial relief until I applied Alcock's Pectoral
Plasters, on my back and chest.

These I put on when retiring, and was delighted to find myself much better the next morning. In two days I was well.
This, and the experience I have had with Alcock's Plasters in my family, has convinced me that for coughs, colds, sprains, bruises, rheumatism and local pains, Alcock's Pectoral Plasters are the quickest and most effective remedy extant.

Fannie McGraw came to Fort Wayne four months ago and was taken to a house on Eckerl street, southeast of the city limits. She came from Decatur, Ill., and last Saturday she gave birth to a girl baby. The child lived only a few minutes. The unfortunate girl's father is a farmer, and her betrayer is George Rapp, a sewing machine agent, who is doing business in Decatur. The unfortunate girl is well educated and quite pretty. She is only eighteen years old and says she would rather suffer death than have her people know anything of her misfortune.

Four Lives Saved.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.

EPPS'S COCOA.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the properties of well selected Cocoa, Mr.
Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a deliciously flavored beverage which will save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal disease by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."
